Historic models to commemorate WW1

ReCollect Models produce code 3 repaints of WW1 vehicles. Models by Lledo, Oxford and Matchbox have been detailed, repainted, transfers added, and weathered by a resident artist.

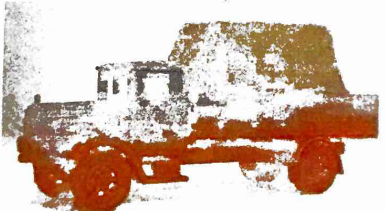

One of their first models is a B-type bus, as used in Flanders. This has been followed by a range of ambulances, lorries and heavy haulage steam wagons.

Manchester and Glasgow models delayed

Forward Models announced their new series of buses earlier this year under the slogan 'Glory Days of the British Bus'. They planned to produce a 1950s 'tin front' in the liveries of eight cities, the first being Manchester and Glasgow.

The designs were finished by July and managing director, Derek Perry, prepared to sign the order. However, the pound suddenly dropped in value, increasing costs by nearly a quarter overnight.

The order had to be suspended until the situation stabilised. New funding had to be found to make up the shortfall leading to a delay of up to six months.

Derek Perry announced: 'When we receive the funding we can start production. However, the first models will not appear until early 2017. We are sorry for the delay and thank our customers who have pre-ordered for their patience'.

He added: 'We will have to regrettably increase our selling price as well. But, you can still pre-order at a discount.'

Where to buy our models

A NEW SITE

www.my-collection.co.uk

We are now in partnership with a new site where you can buy our models including code 3 models, and other ex-collection models.

We do not have our own eBay site but search 'Birmingham buses' for our partners DIEyou247 and Brainiac007. You can also find our models on Amazon.

And we have our own website at www.forwardmodels.net with news, shop and a form you can use to contact us. Sign up for regular emails.
